Costly Searcity of Opportune Hits on the Part of the Home Team-Bostons, Chicagos and Clevelands Win From Their Opponents-Results Yesterday

The Philadelphians came to New York yesterday, trounced Griffith's hopefuls and still lead the American League. The Bostons and Clevelands are tied for second place, each winning yesterday. The Chicagos defeated the Detroits and tied, them for fourth place. The results:

PHILADELPHIA (A. L.), 5; REW YORK (A. L.), 1. Now come the Philadelphias and make the New Yorks look like a second division The Quakers beat the locals yesterday 5 to 1 and held the upper hand all the way. In the ninth inning the New Yorks did what they could not do in any of the ceding eight innings, and that was make a timely hit. Hits deferred maketh the score sick, and the New Yorks deferred their hitting so long that their run getting was very much on the invalid order. It convalesced briefly in the ninth inning, but soon became extinct. continued cold seems to have the New Yorks in a chronic state of numbness with the sticks. The other fellows can tear off long and hard welts, but New York's batting has been very ineffective for several days. The fielding was all right yesterday, barring a muff by Anderson; but the New Yorks gave a feeble exhibition of timely hitting. They did some beautiful high fly hitting but Bender, the Indian, persistently tomahawked their ability to advance base runners.

The Philadelphias jarred Chesbro with a number of wicked licks, distributed where they would do most damage. With two out in the first inning Davis walked, stole second and then Seybold stung a liner to right for a base, scoring Davis. Hartsel's vicious smash to centre sent in a run in the second inning, after two were out. The three runs in the seventh inning also were scored after two Davis's double and Anderson's muff doing

The Philadelphias were stout of heart and did not mind a little thing like two men being out, but a man on base and nobody out was situation with which the New Yorks could not cope. It happened in the fifth inning. Chesbro led off with a single. There not cope. It happened in the fifth inning, when Chesbro led off with a single. There Chesbro anchored, because the next three hitters were tried and found wanting. Williams led off with a single in the fourth inning, and by his own exertions worked his way to third, only to be left there.

Other good opportunities also went glimmering. There were three on bases in the third inning, Chesbro having singled and Fultz and Keeler having promenaded on four balls. There were two out, and there was a great chance for Elberfeld to distinguish himself. He had what the actors call a fat part, but be missed his cue and ended the scene on an easy grounder to Murphy. With one out in the eighth inning, Fultz singled to right, only to be forced by Keeler. Elberfeld hit safely to right and there were two on bases, but Williams filed to Seybold.

Ganzel, the second batter up in the ninth inning, was hit by a pitched ball. McGuire cracked a clean single to centre, sending Ganzel to second base. Ganzel went to third on Chesbro's out at first, and then Conroy, who previously had been able to find only the edge of the ball, split the diamond with a liner over second base, scoring Ganzel.

Every run of the game was made after two men were out. The score:

New York in the ninth inning to-day, by the score of 7 to 6. Notwithstanding the defeat and the unearned victory, it was one of the greatest games pulled off on the Philadelphias diamond in a couple of years.

It was a contest brimful of interest and action from the very first crack of the ball unti the last man was out. It was witnessed by 2,711 persons. It was both won and lost by the Philadelphias-lost directly on a couple of errors in the ninth and indirectly by McGann's home run hit in the eighth.

But the visitors won, and enough is said Never were the Phillidelphians seen with so much ginger in them. They had lots of life despite their costly errors in the last time in the field. Manager Duffy must have done something strenuous over Sunday The visitors were gritty from the start and played a splendid uphill game. They were beaten 3 to 0 until the seventh then they scored three runs. But the delphians came back at them and ripped deiphians came back at them and riphed off three more and the New Yorks were 3 down. McGann's home run drive over right field fence with Devlin on base, the result of four balls, counted two runs and still the Philladelphians lead by a run. It was in the ninth that the crisis arose. The New Yorks were equal to the occasion and won the game. Hulswitt made a low throw to Hall, off Browne's hit, and Titus fumbled Devlin's hit which all helped toward getting in two runs on McGann's long hit to right centre. The score:

"So far as Sunday ball is concerned," said John T. Brush, president of the New York National League Baseball Club, yesterday, "I was associated for years with the Cincinnati "I was associated for years with the Cincinnaticlub, which played on Sunday. So there is no sentiment with me in regard to Sunday playing. I have got past that. As to playing Sunday games at the Polo Grounds, I have not yet fully thought the matter out. If the people want Sunday games there, and the authorities permit them, I see no reason why they should not be furnished. But I have made no arrangements as yet for any Sunday ball."

Frank Farrell of the New York Americans declines to say anything on the question of his team playing Sunday games here.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 18 .- At the largest BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 18.—At the largest public meeting held in this city since the McKinley memorial strong sentiments against the proposed playing of Sunday State League basebail games in this city were expressed yesterday afternoon by the wealthest and most prominent men. The Ministerial Association has taken up the fight and will endeavor to prevent Sunday games. The first game is scheduled for next Sunday with the A. J. & G. State League team.

The baseball managers expect that an injunction will be served on them restraining them from proceeding with the game. If forced to give up Sunday games the management declares it will sell its franchise.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

SILVER DAYS WINS AT 20 TO 1 UNBACKED BY OWNER.

Bookmakers Make Big Hauls, Notably With the Defeats of Peter Paul and All Gold-Jack McDonald Backs San Nicholas Heavily-Jockeys Suspended.

There is nothing more distressing to an without backing him for a dollar. Probably the saddest man at Aqueduct yesterday was F. R. Doctor, owner of Rostand, Stamping Ground and other fair racers, when his three-year-old colt Silver Days took the third race at 20 to 1. There was as much as 40 and 50 to 1 against the Montana colt in some books, but Doctor told his friends that he did not see how the colt could win and consequently he and they refrained from taking a chance. Cormack rode Silver Days as if thousands of dollars had been placed him. He began whipping him on the far turn and never let up until he had the race won. It was such an energetic display of horsemanship that the onlookers were sure that somebody had scorched the ring, but after the race Doctor said mournfully:
"What do you think of it? I did not bet penny on the colt!"

It was a day of rejoicing and fat bank rolls for the bookmakers. Their biggest haul was in the Arverne Stakes, when Peter Paul was beaten to a standstill. The crowd fairly loaded the money on Bradley's gelding, the sheet writers having cramped fingers when the speculation ended. The same might be said of the last race, when there was a craze to play All Gold. Strange to say, the one semblance of form that was worthy of the support of the public was displayed by two-year-olds, who are usually poor betting propositions.

Bookmaker Jack McDonald made things sizzle in the last race. His commissioners got busy with H. E. Rowell's San Nicholas when the price had gone to 7 to 2, and each book got a piece of the money, which went on $200 at a clip. The Western crowd meanwhile went to Sais in a body, backing the St Blaise colt from 5 to 1 down to 7 to 2, and they velled themselves hoarse when, in the last few strides, they thought that San Nicholas would be overhauled. McDonald was the biggest winner on the day as a result of the triumph of the Reggie horse.

Starter Fitzgerald said yesterday that the two-year-olds needed much schooling at the barrier. The "walk up" system was tried in all of the races and the determination of the jockeys to disobey instructions by trotting

"Walk them up or there will be no start! was Mr. Fitzgerald's constant order. the boys were persistent, so anxious were they all to get the best of the start. As a result Fuller and Martin were each suspended for one day for misconduct in the Arverne Stakes. There was more faultfinding among owners and trainers owing to the fact that no fixed method of sending the horses away has been decided upon, but the turf authorties have evidently concluded to try the matter to a finish, no matter what the present results may be. The victory of Spring in the Arverne

Stakes was not a surprise to those who saw stares was not a surprise to those who saw the Atheling colt beat Graziallo at Bennings. Spring was at 12 to 1 yesterday, while Gra-ziallo was second choice, and the smart men wondered why the layers quoted such prices. Spring was played across the board by those who saw him run at Washington and they congratulated themselves heartily when Goughacres Stable, whose colors were carried by Spring, will give up racing on the flat after this season and will go in for steeplechasing next year. Capt. Fred Presgrave, trainer for B. F. Clyde of Philadelphia, the owner of the stable, said yesterday that the yearlings would be sold next September and that the stable would later purchase and that the stable would later purchase suitable horses for the jumping events. He said that the produce of the breeding farm would be sold each year. Atheling is the leading stallion there and has sired many good horses. Dublin, who was cut down last year, has been retired to the stud.

Matt Byrnes, who earned the distinction of training three Suburban winners, Montana, Salvator and Pontiac, will train for R. S. P. Randolph of Philadelphia in future instead James Frayling. Byrnes went abroad the scene of his former triumphs.

Two jockeys, Hildebrand and Corr, were on Belle of Wakefield in the first race and Esher filly suddenly kicked up her heels and landed the crack California lightweight on his head. But Hildebrand bounded up like a rubber ball and was in the saddle again be-fore the filly realized it. Corr had a similar experience with Nic Longworth, in the third race. He went sailing over the colt's head and landed on all fours. Scrambling to his feet, the midget made a dive at the colt's bridle and prevented a runaway.

The Metropolitan Jockey Club, at a meet ing yesterday, passed resolutions to the effect that Henry Stedeker, who had a clash with the police and District Attorney Jerome re-cently because of poolroom complications, is in good standing and can operate at Jamaica Arthur Redfern, who was taken ill at Bennings with a severe cold, was at Aqueduc pesterday, fit and well. He said that he would begin riding to-day. Redfern gives first call on his services to F. R. Thomas and second

Alex Shields placed a heavy commis-sion on Peter Paul yesterday, but at the last moment he concluded to lay it off, getting out of the hole in the very nick of time. Fuller rode Frank Farrell's Andrew Mack in the Arverne Stakes for the reason that Shaw was under suspension for disobedience at the post on Saturday. Andrew Mack got a hard bumping at the start and was shut of before he had a chance to get into his stride.

T. Hitchcock's steeplechasers arrived at Morris Park yesterday.

Just after the start in the fifth race yes terday Aqueduct and Panamanian collided with a crash, Fuller and Hildebrand narrowly escaping heavy falls.

The Shaffer-Meyer confederacy framed up a killing with Esperance in the first race, but the filly was pocketed early in the game, never to get out. It is said that the Bennington combination cleaned up nicely with Neptunus in this race. W. M. Sheftel, owner of Highball, started a horse for the first time this season here when his two-year-old filly Itaska, by Goldcrest-Thanks, ran in the second race. youngster did not experience the best of racing luck, but closed gamely in the stretch. In the same race Lucien Appleby's filly, Revel, by Silver Fox-Lady Alice, was on the tip of the tongue and was accordingly played from 15 to 1 down to sevens.

J. E. Madden has sold the two year-old filly Auction, by Plaudit-Vendu, to Jule Garson. Tammany Hall speculators and the folnatus all over the ring in the third race, and would have scored a brilliant coup, possibly if the Ornament colt had gotten away better from the post. As it was, he ran a great race and finished third. Daisy Green, running in J. E. Follansbee's colors again, was a supposed good thing is the third event, but she seemed short of Joe Ullman had a big bet on Foxy Kane, but it went up in thin air.

Previous winners of the Arverne Stakes ere Sly Fox, Tamor, Modrine, Robert Waddell. Oom Paul and Dr. Saylor. Robert Waddell carried Pa Bradley's colors in 1901 and the veteran was anxious to score again with Peter Paul.

Hildreth's Filly at Memphis. MEMPHIS, April 18.-S. C. Hildreth's game filly, Witful, was signally defeated in the third race to-day at Montgomery Park by E. Corrigan's McGee. It was practically match race between these two horses, as only two others, Judge and Banter, started and neither of these was expected to be re-turned a winner. McGee won easily from Witful by two lengths. The Hildreth filly finished driving. Judge made the running and the two chief contestants were held well in hand for the finishing spurt.

PETER PAUL BADLY BEATEN.

FINISHES OUT OF THE MONEY IN ARVERNE STAKES.

Spring, 12 to 1. Wins in a Drive-Sydney Paget's Brush Up and Tramotor Victorious-Handicap for San Nicholas-Four Favorites Lose at Aqueduct.

Two favorites, both two-year-olds running in the colors of Sydney Paget, won at Aqueduct yesterday, where another large crowd got the worst of the usual tussle with the books. The biggest disappointment was the downfall of Virginia Bradley's Peter Paul in the Arverne Stakes, for three-year-olds, at seven furlongs. There were four added starters—Graziallo, Loricate, Bob Murphy and Jacquin, the last named owned by Davy Johnson. Peter Paul, who warmed up with a snap and dash, was quickly backed down to even money, while Graziallo went back to 7 to 2, second choice. Briarthorpe and Andrew Mack were also played, chiefly in the show books. They were away to a good start with Peter

Paul rushing to the front like a meteor. Jac-Spring, 12 to 1, were after him sharply, with Andrew Mack shut off in the first furlong Wonderly hustled Peter Paul along without let-up, the Aloha gelding showing the way into the long stretch. Soon the pace began to tell and Martin challenged with Jacquin. long pole. Graziallo, Cormack up, who had been bumped at the start, had made up a lot of ground meanwhile and was coming with a gallant spurt at this point. Whips were busy and the crowd was wild with excitement. Peter Paul was beaten at the final sixteenth, where Jacquin still had command. But McCafferty put up a strenuous finish on Spring and the Atheling colt was returned the winner in a heavy drive by a length and a half. Graziallo, who finished strong, took the place from Jacquin by a similar advantage, with Briarthorpe a length and a half away. Peter Paul was fifth, completely fagged out. The time was 1:26 4-5. The handicap, at six furlongs, was another upset, in the defeat of the even money favorite All Gold. San Nicholas, who won the first race of the season here last Friday, was heavily backed at 7 to 2. He went to the front with a great turn of speed and stood a long, severe drive to the end, where he won by half a length from Sais.

Mr. Paget's first victory occurred in the second race, for maiden two-year-old fillies. He was represented by Brush Up, by Ben Brush-Miss Laudeman, and Pink Garter, by Golden Garter-Pink Cottage, a full sister to Golden Cottage. They were coupled favorites at threes. The Bohemian, 15 to 1, was in front until the field was straightened out for home. Then in a fierce drive Callahan landed Brush Up the winner by half a length, Chrysitis nipping the place from Peggy by a head in the last jump. Jade was a length and a half behind. The time was 0.48 2-5.

was a length and a half behind. The time was 0.48 2-5.

Again in the fifth race, for two-year-olds, at half a mile, the Paget colors were carried to the front by Tramo tor, a colt by Indio—Trolley, who was made an odds-on favorite.

F. R. Doctor's Silver Days, 20 to 1, made all the running in the third race, at seven furlongs, winning eleverly by half a length in 1:28.
